Reports from the Deer Slayers.

The deer season thus far has not been as productive of success as during the last three years. Probably the first one to be brought down was by Roscoe E. Stewart, formerly station agent in Rockingham, who came Thursday evening to the home of F. M. Wheeler in Rockingham and the next morning made an early start, returning before 7 o'clock with a 115 pound buck. Selectman Henry A. Thompson of Saxtons River shot one near his home Tuesday, reported at 200 pounds. Jesse Cane of Saxtons River secured one Friday on the road toward Bartonville which had evidently been wounded last season, its leg having been broken and healed. It was in good condition and weighed 120 pounds. Harold Fuller of Saxtons River, a member of the local high school, brought down a handsome buck Friday 1 1/2 mile south of Saxtons River toward Westminister. Westminister, Leroy Olden of Westminister, shot a buck weighing 120 pounds. L. M. Still of Westminister killed one weighing 142 pounds. Monday Nelson Jones of Rockingham shot one weighing 120 pounds. Among the others reported are one by D. M. Maloney of Rockingham, one by Edward R. Wilcox, one shot by B. F. White of Westminister in Barnard, and one by Man Wheeler in Grafton. Hanson, front of S. J. Cray's market yesterday were two bucks, those of Maloney and Jones, while in front of Richardson's market were five bucks and a doe. The doe was one of two reported to Deputy Warden Butterfield as shot in Rockingham Friday and Monday by unknown parties. Does are reported as being very plentiful in all this section. Two sons of F. L. Simonds of Saxtons River went Thursday night to an old shack on the deserted farm known as the Harlow farm on Harlow hill south of Saxtons River and stayed until Wednesday without securing a buck, but they report seeing a herd of does one day numbering 13, without a single buck.

Successful District Masonic Meeting.

The annual meeting of the eighth Masonic district of Vermont held here Monday afternoon and evening in charge of District Deputy Grand Master Russell W. Blood of Townshend, was a great success in every respect. About 125 members of the fraternity were present during the evening session. At 3:30 p. m. a lodge of Master Masons was opened by King Solomon's Temple lodge of Bellows Falls, John E. Plodock, W. M. The first section of the Master Mason degree was conferred by the lodge of Bellows Falls, John E. Plodock, W. M., followed by the lectures of that degree, given by Blazing Star lodge of Townshend, E. L. Hastings, W. M. The work and lectures were then reviewed by Grand Lecturer E. L. Wells of Lyndonville. Supper was served at 6 o'clock by the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star to 112 members of the order. At 7:30 a reception was tendered to the officers of the grand lodge of Vermont, there being four or five of the highest officers present. The second section of the Master Mason degree was conferred by Columbian lodge of Brattleboro, Sanford A. Daniels, W. M., following which addresses were given by District Master Eugene S. Weston, Grand Secretary Henry H. Ross of Rutland, Past Grand Master Henry L. Ballou of Chester, Rev. W. J. Ballou of Ludlow and others. The Brattleboro contingent, numbering about 40, left by special train at about 10:30 before the speaking was finished.

A new Masonic directory of the various organizations in Bellows Falls has just been issued giving the names of 302 Master Masons, 147 Royal Arch Masons, 99 Royal and Select Masters, 174 Knights Templar and 84 Members of the Order of the Eastern Star. The Masonic orders of Bellows Falls are each in the most prosperous condition in their history, and the advantages of our new Masonic temple and club rooms are being demonstrated more and more each year.

Attempted Suicide on Canal Street.

An attempted suicide on Canal Street Wednesday forenoon caused great excitement for a time. Melvin T. Edwards, about 45 years old, a farmer living near Rockingham, shot himself in the abdomen. He is an old resident of the town, having a wife and son and daughter living with him. The cause of the act was a family row. Several days ago Mrs. Edwards entered a complaint against her husband and had him arrested. Tuesday he swore out a warrant against his wife, and Deputy Sheriff Alexander went to Bartonville and brought her here early Wednesday. The couple and the son and daughter were at the station station discussing the differences and charges against the two parents, when Mr. Edwards went outside to the sidewalk, followed by his son, whom he said that he guessed he would put himself out of the way. He drew a 32 calibre revolver and the son endeavored to stop its use. Mr. Edwards discharged it once without effect and with the son clutching him fired a second time, the bullet striking on the right side of the abdomen and passing through its walls to the left, lodging in the muscle, making a hole four or five inches in length, but not striking a vital part. The man was at once removed to the Rockingham hospital and the best of care given him. It is probable that he will recover, unless blood poisoning should set in.

Fire in North Walpole.

Fire in the village of North Walpole about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon destroyed the second oldest house in that village, owned by Dennis Brennan. It was located on Main street, the second house north of the Walpole Hotel. It was built about 80 years ago by Nathaniel Chapin and later occupied for many years by Levi Chapin, Jr. and for several years was one of only

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event. It took place in Brattleboro. Not in some faraway place. You are asked to investigate it. Asked to believe a citizen's word. To confirm a citizen's statement. Any article that is endorsed at home is more worthy of confidence. Than one you know nothing about, Endorsed by unknown people. O. F. Howe, proprietor of blacksmith shop, 61 Elliot Street, Brattleboro, Vt., says: "In return for what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for me, I gladly give them my endorsement. My back troubled me for a long time and often became so lame that I could hardly stoop. I used plasters, liniments and several remedies but found no relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from F. H. Holden's Drug Store. At the present time, I have no backache whatever and my kidneys are in a normal condition." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. three houses on the meadows on that side of the river now covered by the village of North Walpole. It was occupied later a number of years by Cole Smith, and during all these years was one of the two farm houses connected with the two farms comprising that broad meadow land. The other two houses constituted the original Levi Chapin homestead, now standing near the ice pond, and formerly owned by J. D. Bridgman. The third house was that occupied by the late Indian Indian known to history as Sylvanus Johnson. The fire evidently originated from a defective chimney, and the two tenants lost a large part of their furniture and clothing.

Gilbert-Ryder.

Helene Winfield, third daughter of Herbert D. Ryder, and Dr. Ralph D. Gilbert of Boston were married at the bride's home, 130 Atkinson street, Tuesday evening, by Rev. Arthur Peabody Pratt of the Congregational church. Dr. James F. O'Brien played the Lohengrin bridal chorus. The best man was a brother of the bridegroom, Albert Gilbert, and the bridesmaids were three sisters of the bride, the Misses Jessie E., Charlotte D., and Katherine F. Ryder, and Miss Marion Lewis of Boston. A simple reception was held following the ceremony, and the couple left by automobile for a short wedding trip. Their future home is to be in Belmont, Mass. The bride is a graduate of Bellows Falls high school, class of 1904, and has been a popular young lady in all circles of the town. She is a member of the Phi Kappa Phi society. The groom is a physician and manufacturing chemist, with his business in the city of Boston, and residence in Belmont. About 55 guests, immediate relatives and friends of the parties interested, were present, and the occasion was a very happy one in all respects.

Captain Thompson Wounded by Rifle Bullet.

The only accident thus far during the hunting season happened Monday afternoon, when Capt. George H. Thompson's left hand was mangled badly by the accidental discharge of his rifle. He had been hunting during the day with Capt. John P. Lawrence, but the two had become separated near the Springfield line. In getting over a fence, Captain Thompson's rifle was discharged and a part of the left hand near the two smaller fingers was wounded seriously. He engaged a man to bring him to the Rockingham hospital, and Dr. E. S. Albee dressed the wound. It is not certain whether the two fingers mentioned can be saved.

Mrs. Conway leaves two sons, James D. and William J., who lived with her. The funeral took place Monday, with interment in Immanuel cemetery.

Extensive improvements are being made about Immanuel church and the church-yard adjoining. The grade about the church has been materially changed, and cement sidewalks laid from the entrance to the parish house by the church and a considerable distance down Church street. A new fence of unique design is being placed about the church-yard, the posts being substantial ones of cement, the whole making a great improvement to the church property.

The Day-Pollard company completed their removal from their temporary store on Westminster street the past week to their new and handsome quarters in the Union building, and visitors in the new location have found one of the best stores for good goods, wraps and ladies' furnishings to be found in this section of New England. Now that the last of March has passed and the weather has been so much better, the fire is not now looked upon by our citizens as so great a disaster as it seemed at first.

A firm of Bellows Falls, Vt., recently put a new and increased power boiler into the building of the Bellows Falls Trust company. When the use of the boiler was needed a week or two ago it was found that there was hardly a draft to the chimney and workmen decided that the chimney was defective and needed enlarging and building higher. This was done and the boiler was no draft from the boiler, smoke and gas filling the building for several days. The bank officials notified the firm that they were considering the matter with the chimney must be wrong, and after a long discussion a close examination was made of the boiler and it was found that the workmen had left a concealed damper in the front end of the boiler closed tightly. This being opened, everything was in perfect condition, and the firm which did the work has been the butt of many jokes the past few days.

Misused Words.

Accord is a stilted substitute for give. Ability an capacity are not synonyms. The former is the power of applying, the latter of acquiring knowledge. Aggravate means to add weight to; it is not equivalent to irritate. You can administer government, oaths, medicine, but not blows or punishment; they are do or given.

Adopt is a poor substitute for take, such phrases as "What course will we adopt?"

Do not confound amateur with novice. An amateur may be an artist of great experience and skill, but he is not a professional artist. A novice is a beginner.

An audience is an assembly of hearers. There can be no audience at a gymnastic performance, a pantomime, a boat race, a sparring match and the like. Where only the eye is appealed to use the word spectators.

Do not use balance in the sense of rest, remainder, residue or remnant. The word is only permissible where the simile of the scales will apply, as in a bookkeeper's balance.

Do not confound bountiful with plentiful. Bountiful means liberal, beneficent. Bountiful is preferable to commence, because it is shorter and is Anglo-Saxon. Consider means to contemplate, to ponder. Do not use for think, suppose, or regard.

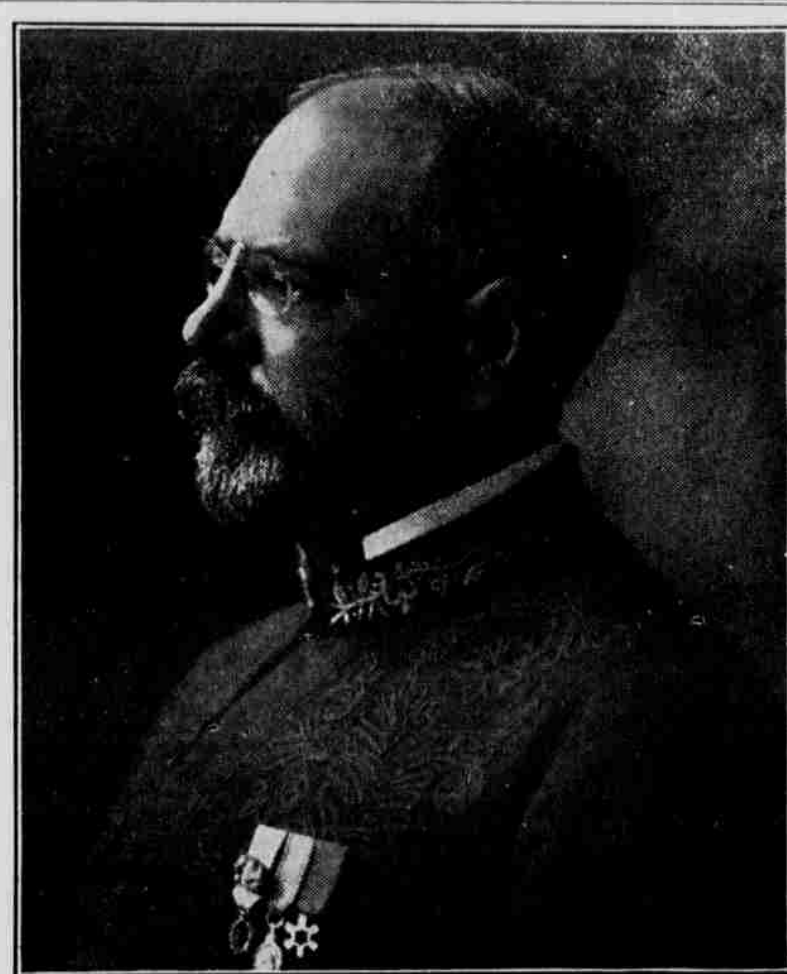

Constantly is not synonymous with frequently. Constantly means uninterruptedly.

Depreciate is wrongly used for disparage, censure, condemn. The word really means to beg or pray against.

Description should not be used for kind or sort. Say "His clothes were of the meanest kind," and not "of the meanest description."

When Mr. Nichols fired the buck ran out of sight, but came back and ran up the hill three times. Mr. Nichols watched each time. The buck was running at highest speed when the fatal shot was fired.

A Smooth, Plain Range for the Kitchen.

The modern idea in the work of the home as well as in business is economy of time and labor as well as economy of money, and for the up-to-date home, kitchen furniture must be wholly practical—free from useless features. Take for example the kitchen range.

Manufacturers for years vied with each other in covering their product with rosettes and filigree in the fancied belief that a showy range would please the housewife best.

But what a mistake! Ask any housekeeper today and she will say, "The kitchen is the chief work-room in our home; its fixtures should be neat, plain and sanitary. The cooking range should be in keeping with this idea—outside finish smooth and plain. You know a smooth casting is always easy to clean."

To the makers of the Glenwood Range should be given chief credit for the modern plain range. It is in their modeling departments and pattern shops that the graceful, pleasing lines of the present-day plain range have been carefully worked out.

But remember—it is one thing to make a plain range and another to make it smooth. A plain casting shows all imperfections. If the iron is poor or the workman careless, the finish will be coarse and rough, not fine and smooth like a Glenwood. For right here is the great difference—these are smooth as well as plain.

In making a smooth range it is attention to detail that counts. At the Glenwood Foundry, the moulding sand is put through process after process until it is as fine and mellow as flour. The iron must be just right, too. No one mine in the country can furnish the strong, fine grained, lasting quality of the Glenwood formula demands, and so the best iron from several mines are carefully proportioned and blended exactly right in the great melting furnaces at the Glenwood Foundry. And so on through each Glenwood department, an army of skilled workmen
